villagers Throw Eggs and Stones, One Stone Hitting the Bride, Knocking Her Senseless to the Floor-The Groom Then Fires Into the Crowd. Wounding One of Them. PART HENRIPITA, N. Y., July 18.-Edward Shappee, 28 years of age, was married last Thursday night the people of the village gave "horning bee." They all turned out, and deccrated the white paint on the outside of the Shappee house with eggs, and broke the blinds. entains and the screen doors. On Friday night they gave another "bee." It was repeated on Saturday night, and then reached a climax. Just about midnight Shappee appeared at the por, and the sight of him was the signal for a se you there's trouble for you before morning." The answer he got was another rapid fire of fruit and eggs. He was hit once or twice, and drew back just in time to avoid a stone that crashed into the screen door, wrecking it com-pletely. Mrs. Shappee then appeared, hoping to do something to quell the violence of the crowd, but when they saw her there was a ouder disturbance than ever.

"Give it to her, boys," was the yell that went up, and dozens of eggs were hurled at the woman. One of these hit her squarely in the face, and she ran back into the house. A few minutes later Mrs. Shappee appeared at window, and a man in the crowd directed a stone at her. It crashed through the glass and through the curtains, striking her on the head, and she fell back on the floor senseless. Shappee did what he could do to restore her. and then made up his mind to do something desperate. Walking to the bureau he drew out six shooter and walked to the door. "Now, the first man that fires another thing at this house is going to drop in his tracks," he thin about the slightest possible. The words didn't have the slightest possible affect upon the crowd, although they saw the slight of the pistol barrel and saw his determined face. More stones flew, followed by carrots and ezgs.

"We've stood all we will, and you'll have to "Whe've stood all we will, and you'll have to suffer," screamed Shappee.
With these words he emptied the revolver into the crowd as fast as he could fire. He did not take aim, and thought that the bullets would fly wide. The fourth shot brought a yell from the crowd, and one of the crowd dropped to the ground mogning that he was shot. The crowd dispersed, and Shappee went to Rochester and reported what had happened. Arrests will probably be made, as Mrs. Shappee is suffering greatly from shock.

SURS INSPECTOR FOR CLUBBING HIM. Kenny Wants $25.000 Damages-His Charges Against Inspector Thompson. Lawyer George Robinson of 99 Nassau street.

n behalf of Edward Francis Kenny of New chelle, filed in the Supreme Court yesterday papers in a suit against Police Inspector Walpapers in a suit against rotter inspects waiter L Thompson for $25,000 damages for assault. The papers in the suit were served upon Inspector Thompson in his office at Police Headquarters yesterday morning.

The suit is a result of the clubbing on Monday night outside of Madison Square Garden, where inspector Thompson had charge of the police. Kenny says he came down from his home Monday night intending to purchase a two-dollar admission ticket to the fight. When he got to the Garden he found that all the tickets at that price had been sold. He went across the street to the Putnam House and took a seat in the reading room on the ground floor. Kenny asserts that Thompson came in swinging his club and jostling everybody near him. When he got to where Kenny was sitting he swung his club, hitting Kenny over the head and smashing his hat. Then, Kenny asserts, Thompson struck him on the mouth with his club, "knocking one of his teeth down his throat." Not satisfied with that, Kenny says in his bill of complaint, Thompson beat him on the shoulder, kicked him in the groin and threatened to shoot him, used abusive anguage, cursed him and said he would "put his lamps out in a hurry." At that point, Kenny says, four policemen came along and took Thompson away. Kenny says that since the beating he has been sick and lame, and he saks that he be recompensed at Thompson's expense to the extent of $25,000. ter L. Thompson for $25,000 damages for assault.

Brought Up to Be a Wine Bibber

The defence in the case of Newton B. Staover a week, was presented yesterday. Law-yer James C. Chandler in his opening address contended that the young man's excessive indulgence in liquor and tobacco for two weeks before his incarceration in the Sandford Hall asylum was responsible for the symptoms of paranola described by the doctors. He said that from the time Newton was old enough to know what liquor was he was accustomed to its use at his own home and that when he went to school at 16 years of age his family sent him quantities of wine to use as he saw fit. Stachelberg took the witness stand himself and testified at length as to his family relations, his early drinking habits at home, at school and while drumming up trade for his father's cigar business. He also related his experience as a soldier in the English army in South Africa, his return to this country and the resumption of his dissipation. During the entire direct and cross-examination he remained perfectly calm.

Dr G. M. Hammond was the principal medical witness for the defence. He said that on July 2 he had made an examination of Stachelberg at Sandford Hallso as to ascertain his mental condition and from it he was satisfied that the young man was suffering from chronic alcoholism and nothing else. The witness said Stachelberg was not insane and should be set at large. The case will probably be submitted to the jury to-day. contended that the young man's excessive

CANADIAN PARLIAMENT PROROGUED. of the Death of Lieut. Borden.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 18.—The Dominion Parliament was prorogued by Lord Minto this afternoon. The session was the longest, with one exception, since the confederation. Although the present Parliament has one year yet to run, it is thought that it will be dissolved and the general elections held next October.

Bir Louis Davies, Minister of Marine; Blair, Minister of Railways, and Fielding, Finance Minister, have left for England. Lord Minto starts to-morrow on a trip to the Pacific, and will visit the gold fields of the Yukon.

NEW YORK POST OFFICE TOO SMALL. The New Foreign Mail Building, It Is Believed,

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The removal of the division of newspaper and package mail from the main Post Office in New York to an uptown station in the Grand Central Palace and the transfer of the foreign mail to the new building, to be erected at West and Morton streets, will not, it is believed, relieve the congestion in the New York Post Office. As one official stated the situation, "The New York Post Office is three-fourths too small." It is the common opinion that further changes will have to be made as soon as possible, but no one is apparently able to suggest a suitable remedy. Postmaster-General Smith is very anxious to have the men now working in the basement of the city Post Office brought upstairs, and one of the powerful reasons for securing quarters for the foreign mail division was to permit the of the powerful reasons for securing quarters for the foreign mail division was to permit the men now working in the basement to be assigned to quarters upstairs. It is not believed, however, that sufficient room will be created by the removal of the foreign mail division even if all of that division can be accommodated in the new building. It is also thought it will be necessary to continue handling the newspaper and package mail for the South from the main office. It is said that too much time would be lost in sending the Southern mail to the Grand Central Palace station and then sending it over to Jersey City. The same would apply to the mail going west over the roads running out of Jersey City. From this it is argued that the reliet to be gained by the changes already arranged will be by no means sufficient.

As a remedy for this state of things it is suggested that a special building be secured somewhere in the neighborhood of the main Post Office, where the Southern and Western newspaper and package mail can be handled. Two things stand in the way of such a scheme. A building would probably have to be erected for this purpose and property in that vicinity is held at such prices as to practically preclude the possibility of the Government paying the reutal which would be demanded. The second reason is that the impression that New York is soon to have a new Post Office has gained ground so rapidly that owners of property in the neighborhood of Park row would hesitate to rect a building for the few years the Government would be likely to use it. At the same time a contract for five years could be executed with safety, as no new Post Office could be erected under that time.

It is altogether probable that Congress will provide for a new Post Office at the coming session and the Postmaster-General will probably recommend on in his annual report.

CUBA READY FOR A CONSTITUTION.

Gen. Wood Says Good Order Prevails All Over the Island-No Signs of Trouble. WASHINGTON, July 18.-The Secretary

War had a long conference this morning with Gen Leonard Wood, who was summoned here from Havana to discuss plans for holding a Cuban constitutional convention and to inform the Secretary of War as to the general condition in Cuba. To a reporter of THE SUN Gen. Wood said that the island was ready now for a constitution. "Good order prevails all over the island," he added, "and there is not over the island," he added, "and there is not a sign of disturbance or trouble. The island is self-supporting, and at the close of the fiscal year there was an available balance of $2,500,000. Thirty-one hundred schools have been opened, $500 teachers are employed and $0,000 pupils attend. Seven courts having trial by jury have been established in the larger towns. This is the Cubans' first experience with trial by jury, and the jurors are chosen from the qualified electors of the island. At the last election there was no trouble and no arrests were made. Of course, it will take time to make the change in government. The adoption of a constitution will bring to the Cubans a condition they never knew before. It will necessarily be followed by increased business. Capitalists who are prevented from investing now because of the inability to secure franchises and concessions, will then be able to investitheir money, as the constitution will make provision for the granting of all privileges.

Gen. Wood referred to the postal frauda and said the Cuban people realized that the United States were and would continue to do everything necessary to bring the guilty men to trial. The people had lost no faith in the United States were and would continue to do everything necessary to bring the guilty men to trial. The people had lost no faith in the United States by reason of this trouble.

As to the question of annexation, Gen. Wood said he was certain that the general mass of Cubans, while friendly to the United States and appreciating what this country had done for Cuba. really favored independence. "The build of the people want independence." The said. "There is some feeling in favor of annexation, but I cannot tell its extent or whether it is growing or not.

When asked if Cuban regiments could not be raised to replace the American regiments needed for service in China, Gen. Wood rereplied that the Cubans were opposed to a native military. They did not want to revive the military spirit in the natives. a sign of disturbance or trouble. The island

"The law considers him guilty," said he, "or else the Grand Jury wouldn't have indicted him."

"Don't you know that the law considers a man innocent until he is proved to be guilty?" I asked Assistant District Attorney McIntyre.

"No. I do so consider him, but the law doesn't or else no indictment would have been found," said Adrian.

"Well, I guess that's a logical conclusion for a layman," said Mr. House. Adrian was excused
